FARM PARLEY'S PROGRAM TOLD

Community Host Thursday To State Committee On Agricultural Conservation

El Dorado County will be host on Thursday to members of the state Agricultural Conservation Committee and farm leaders from Amador, Alpine, Calaveras, Tuolumne and Mariposa counties at a discussion conference opening at 10 o'clock in the morning at Hotel Raffles.

Sessions will continue throughout the day and will be followed by a dinner in the evening to which farmers of the county have personally invited business men of the community in the interests of mutual understanding and co-operation.

Dave Davidson, chairman of the state committee, will open the morning session, which will be devoted to a discussion of the problem of production adjustment.

The afternoon meeting will be called to order by George H. Volz, county association chairman, and a picture, "The River," will be shown. This will be followed by a program of addresses bearing upon the subject of discussion at the morning meeting. Talks will include, "Soil-Building Practices in the Farm Program," by B. E. Haslam, secretary of the county Agricultural Conservation Association; "A Review of Recent Practices" and "An Appraisal of Practices which Need Emphasis," by Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley; "Emphasis on Farm Forestry," by H. M. Lumsden, Area Forester of the Soil Conservation Service; recommendations for the 1940 crop and range program, by L. R. Enzler; "Range Practices which Need Emphasis in the County," by R. J. Pitkin, of the state committee, and L. R. Enzler; "Fundamentals of the 1941 Range Program," by B. E. Haslam; "Farmer Participation in the AAA Program," by the state committee.

An informal program is planned for the farmer-business man dinner meeting.

Retailers Name New Directors

Annual Meeting Held At Breakfast Wednesday At Blue Bell Cafe

The annual meeting of the Placerville Retailers' Association, which is affiliated with the Associated Credit Bureau of America and of California, was held Wednesday morning at breakfast at the Blue Bell Coffee Shop.

In the election of directors for the new year to succeed M. T. Kelly, Reuel Whigham and Philip Frost, whose terms expired, Mr. Kelly was re-elected and Don Goodrich and L. R. Armes were named to the board.

Hold-over members of the directorate are Roy G. Strum and E. Ogden Hook.

Among the subjects discussed at the meeting was that of the importance of the organization to the community as a service group for merchants and also for debtors. Members noted that the organization functions upon a non-profit basis and that its services as a credit rating agency are of equal value to the general public and to business men.

The newly chosen directors will meet in the near future to complete their organization for the new year.

Screen Writer

A high school junior, Joanne Benedict, 15, accomplished what thousands of writers dream of but never accomplish. She sold a screen story to a Hollywood firm for $1,500. She lives with her parents on a cattle ranch near Handford, Calif.

ST. PATRICK'S FETE SATURDAY

Diamond Anniversary Of Parish Lends Brilliance To Annual Observance

The St. Patrick's Day supper, concert and dance to be held Saturday at the I. O. O. F. hall in Placerville has this year taken on the dignity and distinction of a jubilee and with that honor portends of a more than usual brilliance and success.

This year marks the diamond jubilee of St. Patrick's parish and to mark that date the parishioners have helped to erect St. Patrick's Hall, a building which was found to be a necessary addition for the parish and is a credit to the community and a pleasing landmark on Sacramento Street.

In connection with the preparations for the St. Patrick's Day observance, the publicity committee has issued the following statement:

"The Parish has a debt which when this affair is over, will feel so diminished, that we will owe a debt of gratitude to the Catholic ladies and their good friends of the community.

"Everybody knows that when the ladies of St. Patrick's Parish set themselves a goal, they reach it.

"The dinner this year under the able co-chairmanship of Mrs. A. J. Orelli and Mrs. Thomas Smith and their many co-workers, will satisfy the most exacting appetite and taste.

"The concert as usual, will be on high scale as we have secured besides our own local talent, some splendid out of town accomplished musicians and vocalists.

"Last, but not least, the dance, and it goes without saying, that the orchestra that has attracted such large crowds all winter, will under the able leadership of Vic Parker, leave nothing to be desired.

"The following is the tentative concert program: Opening number, an accordion selection by Tony Beston, accompanied on the guitar by W. Milton; followed by a vocal selection, male trio, consisting of Thomas Flynn, Robert Barker and Edward Patriquin.

"Next on the program will be an exhibition tap dance by our local Camino boy, Jerry Potts.

"Albert Babayco, Jr., of Sacramento, will render a vocal selection.

"Then the delightful piano and violinists, Mrs. Springer and Miss Mary Tomasetti. Miss Anna (Continued on Page Three)

2 PLOWS SPEED ROAD OPENING

C. of C. Highway Group To Meet Thursday With Division Engineer

That U. S. Route 50 across the Echo Summit will be open to travel this weekend in compliance with a statement issued last Saturday by Frank W. Clark, Director of Public Works appeared probable Wednesday morning as a second rotary plow took up the task of snow removal.

Work on the road had been under way from the Lake Valley side during the week and reports early Wednesday said that the plow operating from Lake Valley was within a quarter mile of Echo Summit.

Early Wednesday, a rotary plow reported to have been brought to this section from the Donner summit went to Twin Bridges to work eastward to meet the first plow.

It was generally felt Wednesday that barring unforeseen mechanical troubles, or storms, snow removal on the route will be completed not later than Saturday.

Meanwhile, John A. Raffetto, Jr., chairman of the county Chamber of Commerce highways committee, announced a conference had been arranged with District Engineer Charles Whitmore, at Marysville, for Thursday morning. Mr. Raffetto will be accompanied to Marysville by Norman Celio and by Secretary Wallace M. Ripley.

Raffetto also had learned that the Director of Public Works is in the southern part of the state and may return to Sacramento Friday. Tentative arrangements for a meeting with him on that day, in the event he has returned, have been concluded.

Farmers Advised Of AAA Dates

Applications For Payments Under Program For 1939 Must Be Filed Soon

El Dorado County farmers who participated in the 1939 program of the Agricultural Conservation Association must file their applications for payments under the program before April 1, according to word received by George H. Volz, chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation Association.

"Applications may be filed at the association office adjoining the courthouse and matters requiring special attention may be taken up with the secretary at the office, or with members of the county committee," Volz said.

Mr. Volz pointed out that March 15 is the final date on which applications may be filed for deferred grazing on non-crop pasture land and range lands, if the land lies between 1500 and 4500 feet in elevation.

May 1 is also an important date in relation to the 1940 Farm Program. It marks the closing date for filing applications for participation in the Range Program for 1940. It is the final date for signing the farm plan or intention to participate, which is necessary, if any farmer expects to qualify for a payment for this year. Unless this form is signed by that time, no payment can be approved for work performed on the crop program during (Continued on page two)

Efficiency "Habit" Wins Praise For Clerk In Mosquito CCC Camp

Efficiency is a "habit" with Norman E. Thrapp, Company Clerk for Company 996, Mosquito Camp, and perhaps that explains why he was able to score 99 per cent in his Red Cross first aid course and merit the further compliment of citation by the examining instructor.

"The public ought to know about this man," suggests T. S. Marlor, chairman of El Dorado County Red Cross chapter, in calling Thrapp's record as a first aid student to attention.

Inquiry at the camp revealed that Thrapp is the company clerk and that his record of service in that post is one of neatness, accuracy and general efficiency.

Thrapp took the first aid course at the camp along with other enrollees with the camp surgeon, Lieut. Ernest Grover, as instructor.

His first aid course examination paper was marked by the examiner classifying him as a pupil of "exceptional knowledge, interest and ability."

Thrapp was reluctant to claim any special distinction as a result of the citation and said he "just took the course along with the others."

Thrapp is 23 years old, a graduate of Banning high school, and has been in CCC service approximately three years. Prior to his enrollment in the CCC he was a truck driver.

Although the rating of first aid pupils as to how well they meet the requirements of the course is, very largely, a matter of the judgment of the examining officer, it is of interest to note that Dr. Grover rated Thrapp perfect in practical problems, digital pressure, the written quiz and class work. The only instance in which Thrapp failed to score the maximum twenty points was in artificial respiration, in which he was rated nineteen points.

Alhambra-Shumway Cuts New Melon

FRESNO, (UP) — Stockholders of record in the Alhambra-Shumway Mining Company's Alhambra Mine near Placerville will receive the 25th and 26th five cent dividends on profits from the mine March 20. C. E. Halliburton, secretary-treasurer of the company, said the board of directors had voted the dividends, which combined, total 10 per cent of par value of the stock to stockholders of record on March 15.

PEACE RESULTS CONCERN U.S.

Complicated Problems Likely To Arise In Near Future, Say Officials

WASHINGTON, (UP) — State department officials believed today that the United States might have to re-chart its foreign policy to meet new European problems expected to develop from the Russian-Finnish peace treaty.

State department officials agreed privately that Finnish capitulation to Russia probably would raise some complicated problems for the United States in the immediate future. Among those immediately raised were:

1. The status of the $20,000,000 export-import bank loan to Finland for the purchase of non-military supplies. The bank previously had loaned Finland $10,000,000. J. E. Jones, federal loan administrator, announced that what remains of the loan would be at Finland's disposal for rehabilitation and refugee work. He still considers Finland a "good risk."

2. The status of collections by various private organizations for Finnish relief and for the purchase of armaments. Former President Herbert Hoover, head of one of the largest organizations collecting Finnish relief funds, declined comment in New York.

3. Future relations between the United States and Soviet Russia.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT

The regular March meeting of El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Raffles. Notices of the meeting were mailed members on Wednesday.

Discussion for the meeting will, as usual, concern a number of matters of important community interest, according to Secretary Wallace M. Ripley. These will include consideration of the reported plans for abandonment of Mosquito CCC Camp; suggestions for county highway projects which may be urged for inclusion in the state's next biennial budget; a consideration of the matter of arranging the annual May Day picnic and a review of the service in the county of the California Highway Patrol.

CAMINO CENTER TO SEEK 25-MILE ZONE SIGN TO GUIDE TRAFFIC

The re-establishment of a 25-mile zone sign for highway traffic at the easterly approach to the center of the community of Camino is to be sought by the Camino Farm Center.

At the center's meeting Tuesday night at the Farm Bureau clubhouse, the absence of the sign was brought to the attention of the committee and Chairman W. P. Fassett named James A. Irving a committee of one to make inquiry concerning its replacement.

The meeting marked Conservation Week for the center and Harry Hyatt, of the Soil Conservation Service showed special motion pictures and spoke concerning the need for conservation of natural resources. Henry Warren and State Ranger Willard Austin, of the Division of Forestry, spoke on the subject of conservation also.

"Can the Farmer Increase His Income?" was the subject of a discussion by Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley. The program also included the showing of news reel pictures concerning hostilities in China.

The March meeting of the County Farm Bureau directors will be held tonight at the Farm Advisor's office. The meeting, which regularly falls on the second Thursday evening of the month, was advanced to tonight to avoid a conflict with Thursday night's farmer-business men's dinner.

FINNS RATIFY SOVIET PEACE

Baltic Republic Retains Technical Independence At Russia's Pleasure

PARIS, (UP) — The Finnish Diet was reliably reported today to have ratified the peace treaty with Russia.

By UNITED PRESS War in Finland ended today on terms laid down by Josef V. Stalin with the tacit blessing of Adolf Hitler.

Cessation of fighting on the far northern fronts ended a conflict of 105 days in which Finland's population of less than 4,000,000 courageously exhausted its fighting strength against the vast military power of the Soviet Union.

For the Finns, the result was the immediate loss of their position as a "locked door" against Russian expansion toward Scandinavia; the surrender of the main Mannerheim line defenses and the Gulf of Finland naval base at Hangö.

Technically, they retained their independence on the basis of economic cooperation with the Soviet Union but only future developments will show whether they, too, must go the way of the Baltic states or of Czechoslovakia. If Russia seeks eventually to exert greater domination, it is difficult to foresee any grave obstacles in the path.

For the Russians, the peace agreement meant the end of a war that had cost them possibly 200,000 dead and many other thousands of casualties as compared to an estimated 25,000 to 30,000 Finnish dead. But the pact was hailed throughout the Soviet Union as a triumph for the Red Army and the end of what the Russians termed a threat of imperialist invasion through Finland. Russian newspapers promised friendly relations with the Finns in the future.

Britain Offered Finland Aid

Chamberlain Defends Government Against Hore-Belisha Attack

LONDON, (UP) — Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today defended Britain's readiness to aid Finland's "epic struggle against aggression" but was sharply criticized by former war secretary, Leslie Hore-Belisha for failing to go to the defense of the Finns.

The dismissed war secretary, who previously had urged aid to Finland even if it meant war with Russia, rose in the House of Commons and asked:

"Isn't it a fact that repeated appeals have been made by that country (Finland) for assistance not only in materials but in men and isn't it a pity in relation to the magnitude of these events and their far-reaching character to plead as an excuse for inaction a pure technicality?"

Hore-Belisha obviously referred to the refusal of Sweden and Norway to agree to passage of allied troops through their territory as a "technicality."

The former cabinet minister demanded an opportunity for commons to debate the government's whole conduct of the war.

"And let's discuss you, too," a laborite shouted. "You want us to fight the world."

Chamberlain denied Hore-Belisha's inference that Finland had repeatedly appealed for aid.

In his reply to Hore-Belisha, the prime minister said:

"The Finnish government made repeated requests for materials and every one of those requests has been (Continued on Page Three)

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT of his candidacy for election, subject to the August primaries, as State Senator for Alpine, Amador and El Dorado Counties was made Wednesday by H. E. Dillinger, of Placerville, a former member of the State Assembly.

DILLINGER IN SENATE RACE

Former Assemblyman First To Declare Candidacy As Successor To Pierovich

The "opening gun" in the 1940 political campaign as it concerns El Dorado County was fired Wednesday morning by H. E. Dillinger, in the announcement of his candidacy for election as State Senator to fill the office made vacant by the appointment of Senator A. L. Pierovich to be Judge of the Superior Court in Amador County.

Mr. Dillinger issued the following statement of his candidacy:

"I wish to announce my candidacy for State Senator from this District (Alpine, Amador and El Dorado Counties), and would appreciate your support.

Personal Background

"Your State Senator is your employee. Just like any other you might hire in your private business, to build a house, or to represent you with an important case in court. So you, like any prudent person, want to know the applicant's qualifications for the job you want done.

"I grew to early manhood on a farm, and am still financially interested in the old home place. Also, worked in the mines, so have first hand knowledge of, and sympathy with, two of the important industries of this District. Was a bookkeeper and government clerk in the Navy and Department of Agriculture, studied law while in the government service, was admitted, and practiced for several years. For the past twenty-three years have been a business man at Placerville.

Legislative Experience

"Served four consecutive terms in the assembly, indicating that my services were satisfactory there, and now I seek an advancement I hope I have earned, to the Senate, where the duties are practical identical, and where my experience will enable me to serve you even better. Legislative experience is especially essential for a man from a rural district. A city member may lean on more experienced and capable members of his delegation, but the rural member must stand alone.

"Legal training, also, is highly desirable because many of the questions involved are legal ones, and many of the other members have legal training.

"Business experience is highly desirable, too. We need practical business men in formulating state policies.

Other Experience

"Two terms member of the City Council, for several years vice-president of the Mother Lode Highway Association, and always active in behalf of Rural Road Relief. Head (Continued on Page Four)

TORNADO KILLS 13; LOSS HIGH

New Storm Predicted As Damage In Louisiana Exceeds $1,000,000

SHREVEPORT, La., (UP)—Tornadoes which twisted across western Louisiana and eastern Texas last night claimed 13 lives and caused property damage in excess of $1,000,000 it was estimated today. Scores were injured. A new storm was predicted.

The principal storm centered in industrial and residential districts of Shreveport, cutting a four mile swath and killing 10 persons five of them Negroes. Another twister hit a rural community near Marshall, Tex., 40 miles west of here, killing three persons, of whom two were Negroes.

The white victims here were T. K. Gidden, wealthy business man; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bauguss; Mrs. Hettie Armstrong, and E. G. Woodward.

The tornado swept into this city of 80,000 shortly before dusk. Five hundred persons were homeless.

It cut a block and one half wide path eastward from the state fair grounds, past Centenary College, through the residential districts of Ingleside, Werner Park, Queensboro, Jewella and Goodmore, and alongside the army air base at Barksdale Field.

Barksdale Field officials said several army planes were damaged. Among the persons seriously injured were Sergeant Hubert Helms, his wife and baby; Sergeant Gains Moseley, and a Sergeant and Mrs. Wagstaff, all of whom lived near the field. The Wagstaffs were reported in critical condition.

Shell Dealers Discuss Sales

Sacramento Division Manager, Staff, Tell Of New 1940 Products

Local representatives of the Shell Oil Co., Inc., throughout this area, assembled here Tuesday to attend the company's 1940 sales meeting. They met with executives from the Sacramento division headquarters to discuss the advertising and sales promotion plans for the current year.

H. W. Stewart, Sacramento division manager, was in charge of the meeting. He was assisted in the presentation of the new program by R. S. Davis, division sales manager, and E. E. Cunningham, assistant sales manager. The meeting was held at Hotel Raffles and was followed by a dinner.

Shell is again using newspapers to form the backbone of its advertising program, and tying in with national magazines, outdoor posters and direct mail. The 1940 schedule calls for an increase in the number of smaller newspapers used, according to Mr. Stewart.

Others present included L. R. Armes, company manager for Placerville; William Graft, manager at Auburn; Mark Daw, operations department head, Leo Burlinson, office manager, and Bill Thelan, credit manager, all from Sacramento, and dealers served by the Placerville and Auburn distributing depots.

Greenwood Mining Claim In Partition Suit

A complaint in partition in relation to the Welch Lode Mine, in Greenwood district, was on file on Tuesday in Superior Court. The plaintiff in the action is J. A. Sisler and defendants include Bryant Moore, Lina Moore and Samuel Kaiser.

Meet Me at MIDNIGHT
RUTH LOUISE AYERS
Copyright 1937 by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Caroline Jay and Garret Cassidy love each other but, because Garret is a shiftless poolroom loafer, Caroline's mother has forbidden her to see him. Mrs. Jay, superintendent of the Avon Home for the Aged, wants Caroline to encourage Henry Avon, whose wealthy mother is head of the Home's board of directors. Caroline, however, manages to meet Garret secretly one afternoon, telling her mother she is going shopping, she goes for a drive with Garret, and they plan to elope after she has gone Mrs. Avon phones Mrs. Jay inviting Caroline to her country home for a week. Mrs. Jay, making an inventory of Caroline's clothes, finds a note in her purse—"My adored Caroline—Meet me at midnight, Garret."

CHAPTER X
AS Martha Jay stood there, reading and rereading the note, a strange numbness gripped her. Despite the heat of the day, she shivered. "Meet me at midnight, Garret." Could it be that Caroline had been secretly meeting this boy whom she had been forbidden to see again—this boy who idled on street corners and loafed in poolrooms? Could it be that she had fallen in love with him—so deeply and desperately that her mother's wishes meant nothing?

Martha Jay thought suddenly of the suggestion of a smile that had appeared on Sarah Evans' face on being told that Caroline had gone downtown this afternoon to shop. Could it be that Caroline was with Garret Cassidy at this very moment and that Miss Evans knew it?

But not! It couldn't be! Caroline would not resort to such tactics. The note was obviously an old one. It had been crumpled and tucked carelessly into the pocketbook as though the girl had forgotten to tear it up and toss it away.

"Of course she never met him," Mrs. Jay assured herself. "He probably bothered her after she stopped seeing him, and she didn't want to worry me, so didn't tell me anything about it."

She tore the note to bits, hating herself for thinking that Caroline would ever be deceitful, or have clandestine meetings with any man.

SHE forced her thought back to the task ahead of her. She must hurry downtown to shop for Caroline so that she would be well equipped for her visit to the home of Henry Avon.

There was a young man who was worthy of her, who could give ner happiness and security. That was what was ahead for Caroline. A man like Garret Cassidy who was worlds apart from her could bring her nothing but misery and Caroline was surely sensible enough to realize that. No it was impossible that she had been seeing him.

So Martha Jay rode downtown. In the dress department of the city's best store she found a clerk she knew.

"It's something for Caroline," she said. "I want a good-quality print for afternoon wear. Caroline is going away for a little visit."

The clerk had waited on Caroline many times and knew the color she liked and the size she wore. She brought forth three or four of the more expensive dresses.

"Oh, now pretty!" Mrs. Jay exclaimed. "It looks like Caroline!" The dress was made with flared skirt and fitted bodice. It had peasant sleeves with smocked cuffs. The only trimming was a narrow collar edged with lace. Mrs. Jay looked at the other dresses, but came back to this one. "I'll take it," she said, not wanting to spoil the happiness of buying it by looking at the price tag.

She went next to the lingerie department and revealed as the counter was strewn with misty crepes and laces. Her purchase mounted.

She went on to the pocketbook counter and picked out a white leather bag trimmed in blue patent. She waited as a blue metallic "C. J." was put on it.

SHE thought, as she waited. "Oh Caroline, that was an old note wasn't it, that was crumpled in your pocketbook? You have not been seeing Garret since I told you not to have you, darling?"

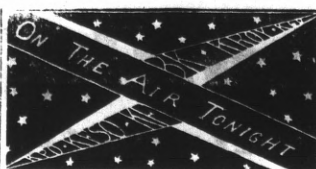

She wished she would bump into Caroline as had sometimes happened when they were both downtown on separate shopping expeditions. It would put her mind at ease remove this fearful doubt that Caroline might not have gone shopping after all. If only she would suddenly see her coming through the crowd. They would link arms companionably and go off to have a soda together.

But Caroline was not in the shopping crowd that her mother scanned.

Caroline, almost at that very minute, was standing in the office of a country justice of the peace with a tall, white-faced young man beside her.

BASEBALL MOGULS MEET AT ROSEVILLE TONIGHT

The "Who's Who" of the Placer-Nevada Baseball League meets tonight at Roseville to complete details looking toward the start of the season's play early in April.

On behalf of the Placerville Club, which is returning to the league this year after a year's absence, Dr. Richard G. Hosking, president, Sam Hern, secretary-treasurer, and Aubrey Warren will attend the meeting.

The Bartlett directors have been in conference with County Engineer Don M. Hoffman concerning the probability of playing games at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park this season and report that there is a probability that by a slight adjustment in the early part of the schedule, home games may be played at the park late in April or early in May.

Radiophoto of Stricken Domala

While a Royal Air Force plane hovers overhead, the British liner Domala is shown burning off the coast of England as the result of a bomb attack by Nazi airmen. The Domala was enroute from Antwerp, Belgium, to England with 301 persons aboard, many of them British subjects who had been interned in Germany and who had just been exchanged for Germans held in England. British and Dutch vessels picked up many survivors, but 108 were reported lost.

"THE RED LAMP" TO BE GIVEN AT RESCUE MARCH 26TH

"The Red Lamp," a two-act play which was presented so successfully recently by the Theatrical Club of Missouri Flat, at the Missouri Flat Community Hall, will be given again by the same cast under the auspices of United Rescue Grange at Rescue on Tuesday evening, March 26th. It is reported that Dr. C. C. Long, who directed the players in their rehearsals for the original presentation, is again assisting them in preparations for the appearance at Rescue.

Fern Steever Weds Auburn Man in Reno Service

Reports from Reno on Tuesday reported the issuance of a license to wed to Donald D. Andrews, 21, and Fern Steever, 18, both of Auburn.

Miss Steever, if we mistake not, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Steever, of Cool, and is well known among the young people of the county as a result of her participation in 4-H Club work in her home district a few years ago. We join other friends of the couple in all good wishes.

Robert Muckler has resigned from his position as manager of the California State Fair at Sacramento.

DILLINGER ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR SENATE
